

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF
GROUP PSYCHOTHERAPY AND PSYCHODRAMA

Psychodrama Certification

Psychodrama training is available in your area. The American Board of Examiners (ABE) has a website that provides in-depth information about training and professional standards in Psychodrama, Sociometry and Group Psychotherapy. The ABE website features an online directory where you can search by name or services (private practice, trainer, etc) to locate the nearest psychodramatist. The Board newsletter is also on the website. The certification standards, applications for certification and supporting materials – which includes past exams, study guides, and on-site examination forms – are also available to view and download.
