PNN Submission and Policy Guidelines

The PNN is the official newsletter of ASGPP and it is our goal to provide opportunities for connection, support, sharing of ideas, and communication within the society as well as between the ASGPP membership and other groups, organizations and communities in the United States and internationally. The Editorial Staff welcomes submissions from many sources and strives to have high standards that are clear and transparent.

The PNN Editorial Staff (Executive Director, PNN Editor, Designer, ASGPP President and other contributing editors or designees) reserves the right to accept or reject any article submitted and to edit submitted articles in any way deemed appropriate and necessary.

Our editor(s) will guide and edit your submission to meet PNN Guidelines of quality, deadlines, word count, and information versus self-promotion.

Our Editorial Staff will also read for clarity and for conformance to a no-promotion requirement. Articles promoting upcoming or future trainings and workshops will not be accepted. However, reports on past events are welcome. The articles should have a title and list the full name(s) of all authors. Please send no more than a three line bio for each author including title and place of work. When possible, submit your photo. Any links to source material are encouraged.

Edited articles are not routinely returned to authors for their review. However, the Editorial Staff may request additional information or review from authors when they deem it necessary. The Editorial Staff reserves the right to edit articles for length, and has final say in what gets printed in the PNN.

There are two guiding principles for the PNN:

1. It is a newsletter and any submissions must be narratives, news, reporting and not self-promoting of your work, trainings, or career.
2. As the PNN has grown tremendously in size and variety of submissions, please check the word count requirements before submission. Documents which greatly exceed word counts will be returned to you.

WORD COUNTS: Articles – 800 • Columns (Presidents, Editors and Research) – 600
Members-in-Action – 75 • Chapters/Collectives – 100

The Editorial Staff has created the PNN Guidelines to help you get your submissions accepted and also to make our decision making process transparent to the community.

If you have any questions or comments, please contact the ASGPP office at asgpp@asgpp.org, 609-737-8500.

Respectfully submitted,
PNN Editorial Staff
