Social Justice The Social Microscope

"Human society has an actual, dynamic, central structure underlying and determining all of its peripheral and formal groupings." "It exerts a determining influence upon every sphere in which the factor of human interrelations is an active agent." "Its existence can be brought into an empirical test by means of social microscopy." "There is a primordial nature, which is immortal, a first universe which contains all beings." J.L. Moreno

The Social Microscope, a social justice action tool, is embedded within the writings of J.L. and Zerka Moreno. After two decades of research and practice, the Social Microscope is ready to be shared, to show in action the underlying structure of society, to help to heal the fabric of our culture. The Social Microscope – education and training – is available to individuals, groups, and organizations, as a mentored program of basic ideas and action learning.
